

Response Time Analysis

A response time analysis is done to determine min, avg. and max response for a specific throughput of a transaction, a use case transaction or a complete web page.

The analysis can also be done to find the point (if any) where the response time increases due to an increase in throughput.

From:
<http://docs.intenogroup.com/glossary/> - Inteno Glossary

Permanent link:
http://docs.intenogroup.com/glossary/r/rt_analysis

Last update: 2018/08/10 18:16

